Additional Information for:

Saturday, May 6

We provide a substantial packet of information for the weekend on the bus. This includes their NSC simulation assignment as well as simulation instructions, background information on the Speakers/topics and their group assignments. This is the first time the participants are seeing much of this information. We instruct them to use this period to read and review this information and prepare themselves for the weekend.

Additionally, during the NSC simulation, participants have a partner and they both play the role of one person (i.e. two people act together as the Deputy Secretary of Defense). We instruct participants to also use this period to read their NSC simulation assignment and instructions and meet with their partner to plan how they will approach their position. They strategize which negotiation techniques to use and areas where they will/won't give to get what they want. This is an opportunity for them to coordinate strategies and agree to a plan.

Lastly, during this period, the 2 assigned Deputy National Security Advisors meet with the National Security Advisor (in this case Robert Sheldon). The Deputy NSAs do not have partners. There is just one Deputy NSA for each group, so they meet with Mr. Sheldon to discuss how they should lead the meeting, how they should let the meeting play out, and how to arrive at the best possible outcome. This is an opportunity for the Deputy NSAs to coordinate with the NSA and plan for the simulation.

During this period our Executive Director welcomes everyone to the retreat and provides some essential information for the weekend. This includes: where all meetings will be held, location of dining room, where to leave bags on Sunday morning, where to sign up for Partnership Projects, location of restrooms, etc. Also during this time, everyone goes around the room and introduces themselves. Lastly, during this period our Executive Director walks through the agenda with everyone, again explaining when/where to meet. This is also a period for anyone to ask any questions they may have.

Congressional Partnership Program Retreat Spring 2017

7:00-7:30 pm – Informal Conversations with Guest Speakers

Our panel speakers generally stay for dinner and our dinner speaker arrives early to meet and chat with participants. All participants are required to attend this.

9:00-10:00 pm – Informal Conversations with Guest Speakers

Again, our panel speakers and our dinner speaker stay to chat with participants. More often than not, the dinner runs a bit past 9:00 to answer questions. This provides an opportunity for those who didn't get their question answered during dinner to ask. This is also often the last chance for participants to meet with the guest speakers.

Sunday, May 7th

1:00-2:00 pm – Informal Conversations with Guest Speakers

This is an opportunity for participants to meet with the speakers on Sunday in a more informal setting. Again, speakers don't usually get to all questions during the session so this is an opportunity for participants to get their questions answered. All participants are required to attend this.

5:00-5:30 pm – Wrap-up and Departure from Airlie

Our Executive Director uses this time to thank everyone for attending and for their participation. Additionally, he provides some future instructions for this period such as: where to leave their post-retreat survey, where to catch the bus, where to leave guest room keys, etc.
